PAY UP.

We hate these duns and we know our readers do. Those who have paid, and always do pay in advance, need give themselves no concern about it; and those who owe us from TWO to FOUR years we are exceedingly anxious that THEY should give themselves some concern, and give their immediate attention to this DUN. We need our money and must have it. We, therefore, expect all who owe us for two years, or more, to PAY UP BETWEEN THIS DATE AND THE FIRST OF AUGUST NEXT. It is now about the beginning of hay-making and harvest, when everybody young and old has money. Now, is the time to pay your printer's bill. Do not pay every other bill and forget us, simply because we are good natured and lenient.

If these bills are not punctually attended to by the 1st of August, we will then LOSE OUR GOOD NATURE for a time and place our bills against you, in the hands of a JUSTICE OF THE PEACE IN THE RESPECTIVE TOWNSHIPS IN THE COUNTY FOR COLLECTION. We repeat, that we need our money and must have it. We know that our patrons will heed this DUN, as they do not wish us to enter this campaign with our hands and our tonge tied.

THE final passage of the Revenue bill in pretty near its origional shape, entitles Congress to great credit for lightening the burden of taxation. The most important alteration of the tariff effected by this bill is the diminution of ten per cent. on manufactured goods generally—a measure as popular, probably, in the South and West, as in Europe. The President lost no time in signing this important act.

THE Democracy are, just now, very polite and complimentary to those they term "liberal minded men," meaning, thereby, men who are willing to forsake their own organization and principles, and vote the Democratic ticket. But, should any of their own party prove, in this sense, liberal minded, how quick they are to denounce them as renegades and traitors, and impute to them the worst of motives. Gentlemen your chaff is too light.

IN the campaign of 1868 the Philadelphia Press said: "Every thousand majority for Hartranft, in October means an additional thousand for Grant in November." The situation is unchanged to-day; every word of it is as true with regard to the present campaign as it was to that four years ago. And the converse is equally true. Every thousand against Hartranft, in October, means an additional thousand against Grant in November. Yet the Press opposes Hartranft, and pretends to advocate the re-election of Grant.

"I SUPPOSE that I am indebted to Col. John W. Forney more than any one else for my appointment as State agent," says George O. Evans, the $300,000 swindler. "I understood that the arrangement was that Evans was to give Forney $20,000—$10,000 for the Philadelphia Press, another $10,000 for the Washington Chronicle," says J. M. McClure. "When Evans conduct became known I immediately took steps to bring him to an account," says Gen. Hartranft. "Hartranft must be beaten, Buckalew elected and corruption put down," shouts the virtuous Forney.

THE Franklin Repository, a paper edited and owned until within a few years, by A. K. McClure, says: "The Press says that personally it has no objections to John F. Hartranft, and that it believes him honest. It seems to us that this puts the opposition of the Press to his election upon grounds that are untenable in a Republican journal. The Press does not claim that personal dislike or enmity would justify it in opposing the nominee of the party, but personal unfitness would. It does not allege unfitness, however, but on the contrary affirms its belief in his honesty. If his honesty be not questioned it is safe to say there can be no other personal objection to him."

THE HAPPY FAMILY.

"Let dogs delight to bark and bite
For this they mostly do" &c.

For the last three months the editors of the Watchman and Centre Hall Reporter have been devoting a considerable portion of their newspaper space to personal abuse and the defamation of each other. They have said harder things of, and made graver charges against each other than we ever dreamed of in "our philosophy." Charges of fraud, bribery, corruption, forgery have been made, iterated and reiterated. Kurtz says Meek was not honest while in the Legislature, that he sold himself repeatedly and is actually no better than Sam Josephs. Meek retorts by throwing into the teeth of Mr. Kurtz, a little Osceola transaction amounting to some $1,400 while the said Kurtz was a member of the Legislature. Kurtz denies the soft impeachment and hurls back at Meek, a $20,000 building commission bribe, Sandy Run Improvement Company, Marsh Creek, &c., &c.

The fact is they confirm the truth of every charge we have ever made against either of them, and show further how dishonest and hypocritical they are, when they attack the character of Gen. Jno. F. Hartranft whom even the erratic Forney is compelled to acknowledge "A brave soldier and an honest man." Kurtz and Meek! They are really a pretty pair as the "devil said to his elbows," themselves being witnesses.

In reading the editorials of the last Centre Hall Reporter and Democratic Watchman on the same subject, we were forced to smile, at their bare-faced attempt to deceive the world. That those are most likely to detect them who are sailing in the same boat is, we think, self evident; and their course proves that both Meek and Kurtz are an embodied paradox, a bundle of inconsistencies, contradictions, falsehoods, and deceptions—whited sepulchers" in fact, "full of rottenness and dead men's bones." It further proves that these editors believe, the more gross the fraud, the more glibly will it go down and the more greedily will it be swallowed by the unterrified, since trick will always find faith, wherever imposters will find impudence.

It appears, that ever since the adoption of the Procustes Rules for the government of the faithful, Hon. P. G. Meek has been wincing, snarling and showing his teeth. Actually charging the Capt of the Ring—John H. Orvis, Esq.—with usurpation and trickery, in calling meetings to suit his ambition, to kill off Meek and to elevate himself as the great Goliath of the Centre county Democracy.

This vexes Meek, as he sees his political sun fast setting. Yea, sees himself murdered in the house of his adored friend. The second of the "New rules for the future government of the party" declares, "That the said delegate elections shall be held by an election board, to consist of the members of the County Committee for such district, and two other Democratic voters thereof, who shall be appointed or designated by the County Committee, &c. And the 10th Rule declares that, "In convention, a majority of all the votes shall be necessary to a nomination."

Now, it is admitted that Mr. Orvis drew up the new rules by which the party is to be governed, and remembering that Meek had assigned, set over and transferred the Democratic voters to him (Orvis) as Meek's successor in the last Legislature, and that he afterwards went back on him—and repudiated the transfer, as he did his endorsement of the Parson & Allen note in consideration of the "Big Sandy" swindle—forged the Chambers letter to defeat Orvis and which did its work so well, as his slanders against Bush the year before defeated that gentleman, remembering these things, we say, Mr. Orvis inserts the 11th and 12th Rules, reviewing Meeks acts, and succeeds in getting them adopted. Thus showing Meek's tergiversation and corrupt practices. The trick was so well covered up by that sly fox Orvis, that he succeeded, we are informed, in having those resolutions adopted by the unanimous vote of the Democratic county meeting.

These rules are a direct insult to Meek. An arraignment, rather, of that gentleman. It is evident that some person must have been guilty of frauds, forgery, corruption and bribery of delegates, or, the adoption of the above mentioned rules would not have been rendered a necessity.

If Meek is not the guilty party, who is? Certainly he has been the leading candidate, successful, or otherwise, for the last four years. Meek, thou art the man. It is thy picture which Mr. Orvis paints in such brilliant colors in the above named resolutions.

The Watchman says: "The Democratic committee met at Meek's Hall, Friday, June 14th, 1872, to make out the boards to hold the delegate elections under rule second, and was called to order by the chairman." The Watchman means, of course, that honest tax collector, D. F. Fortney chairman of the Democratic County Committee and political butler for Jno. H. Orvis.

By the wording of the announcement, the reader would be led to believe, that the whole of the Democratic Committee were present at Meek's Hall on Friday, the 14th of June. That was evidently the design of the article. So it is published. That committee not only, appointed an election Board for each township, but gave two thirds of the said election boards to Orvis, and against Meek and other aspirants for the same office in the county.

But not satisfied with this, and to mesmerize Meek they draft three resolutions. The first against the nomination of Horace Greeley by the Baltimore Democratic Convention which meets on the 9th inst.; and the second instructing the delegates from this, the 18th Congressional district to vote for a straight out modern Democrat for President. So much for the Watchman's statement of the meeting of the Democratic County Committee.

Now, hear what Fred. Kurtz, editor of the Centre Hall Reporter has to say on the same subject. Fred, we believe, is a member of the Democratic County Committee and met at Meek's Hall, on Friday, the 14th of June. He says: "There was a meeting of our county committee, numbering only twelve, the full number being some thirty-six, called for local purposes, and under misrepresentation such a resolution was passed." The construction put upon Rule 10, is not to effect County Committees, as we find 12 members equal to 36.

What a humbug! Fred deserves credit for exposing the imposition. But will the voters of his party ever see that the Court House Ring only makes tools of them to advance its own interests and to further its own unholy and aristocratic purposes.

For the amusement of our readers we have thus given the views of the Watchman and Reporter concerning the same transaction. They differ as widely as it is possible for two witnesses to differ. Who tells the truth? Who lies? The Reporter has the spirit of truth in its statement. It is out of the power of Meek and all his "T. M. H." correspondents to prove that Fred. is not correct, when he asserts that only 12 members of the committee were present. Call you this cumulative voting, or is it "personal" or "ring" rule?

IN 1863 an armed Democratic organization, something a good deal worse than the "Heidelberg Brigade" of Berks, says the Reading Times, was formed in Columbia county to resist the draft. Its career was known as the "Fishing Creek Rebellion." The mis-guided men who took part in this treasonable movement were encouraged to do so by the teachings of Buckalew, who was the leading Democrat in the same county. They went to the length of throwing up fortifications to repel the soldiers of the United States. It was suppressed finally after much trouble and expense by the military authorities. A word from Mr. Buckalew would have terminated it, but the word remained unspoken, while Mr. Buckalew sat in silence in the Senate of the United States, dreaming of cumulative voting, and smiling at the struggle of the Goverment for life.

REFERRING to the Philadelphia Press table of estimated losses, in which Indiana county is put down for a Republican loss of three hundred, the Indiana Messenger says:

We feel safe in saying that Indiana county will not allow the State ticket to fall a whit behind our county and district tickets. We can hear no complaints against any of the nominees, and the "Shrewdest" may count on a square, and what is better, a large majority for every man now before the people. There will be no bolting in this neck of timber. We don't do things that way, up here, as the Press will discover when the votes are counted.

WE are authorized to say, says the Carlisle Herald that Gen. Todd has not declined the nomination as Congressman at large. It having been made without his knowledge or solicitation, he does not feel at liberty to refuse the position or its responsibilities, unless by so doing he can promote the harmony and strength of the Republican party.

MANLY WORDS.

The Pittsburg Times replies as follows to John W. Forney's demand for Gen. Hartranft's withdrawal from the head of the Republican State ticket:

"The only visible excuse for opposition to Hartranft is that his nomination was not made under certain influences of the Press and the other malcontent journals. This may be the case, but if it be, it does not detract from the merit of the candidate. There have been many worse nominations made, and sometimes under very suspicious circumstances which have received the enthusiastic support of the Press. But now, a candidate whose character is above reproach, and whose services, civil and military; have been most creditable. is opposed, as is pretended, solely because he was favored by prominent politicians toward whom the editor of the Press has a personal animosity. It is for this personal reason that he is doing all he can to jeopard the success of the State ticket in October, while he is pretending to be anxious for the success of Grant and Wilson in November. For this reason he demands that the deliberate work of the State Convention shall be undone, and a new ticket formed composed of men of his choosing. This is preposterous, and can of course receive no countenance. The ticket formed at Harrisburg is a good one, and it recieves the hearty support of the Republicans, and of all true Republican journals. Those who oppose it may find a real pleasure in playing into the hands of Greeley and Brown. But, independent of the merits of the State ticket, the feeling in Pennsylvania in favor of Grant is enough to secure its success at the October election. The people will then realize how mipotent are all personal jealousies and hatreds to affect the issue of a great national contest."

A SOLDIER'S TICKET.

The Beaver Radical places the Democratic State ticket fairly before the Soldiers as follows:

"Loyal Soldiers of Pennsylvania, here is the ticket the Democracy present for your suffrages:

"For Governor—Charles R. Buckalew, the patron of the Fishing Creek rebellion against the draft; the man who refused to vote to refund to his own State, which he then misrepresented in the United States Senate, the money she had expended for your equipment and comfort, and who never raised his voice against the rebellion until it had been crushed without him.

"For Auditor General—William Hartley, who, when the rebels threatened our State, was twice arrested by General Couch, then commanding the Department of Pennsylvania, for giving aid and comfort to the enemy.

"For Supreme Judge—Jas. Thompson, who decided the draft law and the legal tender act unconstitutional, intending on the one hand to prevent the reinforcement of your armies in the field, and by destroying our currency, on the other, to withdraw your pay and supplies and drive you out of service.

"This is the buzzard's feast to which the Reading Convention invites you."

HORACE AS A PROPHET.—If Horace Greeley is not a prophet, it must be admitted that he sometimes foretells. For instance, in a speech delivered in Trumbull county, Ohio, last fall he said that "if the Democratic party were called upon to decide between Grant and myself, I know that their regard for what they must call principle would induce nine-tenths of them to vote against me." It now looks as if his prophesy was going to be fulfilled sooner than he anticipated. Although the politicians of the party may abandon their principles and stultify themselves so far as to endorse him at Baltimore, when it comes to voting, the masses of the party will do just as Horace himself predicted they would do.

OCTOBER AND NOVEMBER.

[From the Phila. Bulletin.]

The idea that we can afford to defeat our State ticket and yet carry the State for Grant has been urged with much persistency, and has been made to seem plausible enough to require full refutation and exposure.

It does not follow absolutely, as some seem to think, that "as Pennsylvania goes so goes the Union," yet there are so few exceptions that it may almost be regarded as a rule. It is possible to elect a President without the vote of Pennsylvania, but it has so seldom happened that such an event cannot be considered probable.

But there is another rule to which there is no exception—that as Pennsylvania goes in October, she goes in November. It has never happened otherwise. In 1828, 1832 and 1836 the Democrats carried the State in October, and had an easy victory in the month following. In 1840, there was no State ticket to elect at the October election, and consequently no reliable test of the vote. The Whigs and Democrats each carried twelve members of Congress, and the votes given to the several candidates footed up, in the aggregate, a small Whig majority; while on the other hand, the Democrats carried the Legislature, and the popular vote for legislators footed up a small Democratic majority. It was, therefore, a drawn battle; both sides claiming a victory, and both, therefore, went to work with a will to carry the Presidential election. The result in November was characteristic of the indecisive result in October—the Whigs carrying the State for Harrison by barely 843 majority.

In 1844, the Whigs ran the gallant and patriotic Gen. Markle for Governor, and made a bold and energetic stand in his behalf, but he was beaten by a small majority. They struggled with all their energy to regain the State in November; but the governor's election had already decided their fate; the State went against Clay by a largely increased majority. In 1848, the Whigs nominated Wm. F. Johnston for Governor, and at the October election he was chosen by only 313 majority. Yet that trifling majority decided the Presidential contest. The Democrats fought manfully, but in vain, to overcome that small majority, and Taylor carried the State over Cass by ten thousand majority.

In 1852, the Democrats carried the October election by a decisive majority; and in November the State went for Pierce by an increased vote.

In 1856, the Republicans and Americans were united on the State ticket, although divided on President. A determined effort was made by them to carry their State ticket, but it was beaten over 3,000, and in November the State was Democratic, over both, by about 11,000.

In 1860, the Republicans, after a hard fought and bitter contest, elected Curtin to the Governorship by a decisive majority, and the State followed in November for Lincoln by an increased vote.

In 1864, the same result followed.—The Republicans carried their State ticket in October, and gave the State to Lincoln in November with scarcely an effort.

In 1868, General Hartranft was on the State ticket, as he is now, being then a candidate for Auditor-General. The Philadelphia Press had not then unlearned its Republicanism nor lost its common sense, and earnestly contended, all through that campaign, that if Hartranft were not elected, Grant could not be; that it was madness—as it is now—to contend that the State could go one way in October, and another in November; and that every vote for Hartranft in October was worth two for Grant in November. It so proved.—Hartranft was elected, and Grant carried the State easily, although the Democrats made a determined rally, and urged what the Press is now urging, that the result in October could be reversed in November.

What the Democrats contended for then, the Press is contending for now, and that in the very teeth of its own iterated, reiterated and re-reiterated asseverations. The whole history of political affairs in this State from the beginning is against it. Such a thing as reversing in November the result in October has never yet happened, and never will, because it never can.

The reason is plain. The result at the State election necessarily disheartens and demoralizes the defeated party, and there is not time between October and November to recover from this demoralization. Beaten troops always fight badly. Discipline may bring them up to the work, but they go through with it as a matter of routine, without heart or spirit. On the contrary, the successful party in October is correspondingly encouraged, goes into the fight with renewed spirit, and what is known as the floating vote—the vote which waits in every fight to see which side is going to win—goes in with the successful party and helps it to an easy victory. All this is in the very nature of things, and the philosophy of the rule is therefore clear.

Besides all this is the reflex result upon other states of the vote in our State in October. The people of Ohio, Indiana, New Jersey and New York look to the state election in Pennsylvania with an anxiety too deep to find expression in words. It, in a great measure, settles the result in those states also. If we carry the state for Hartranft in October, those states will be sure to follow for Grant in November; if he is defeated they will all be rendered doubtful.

REPUBLICANS OF PENNSYLVANIA! The election of Grant is in your hands. If you elect Hartranft, Grant's election is sure. If you suffer him to be beaten, Grant's election is not only doubtful but next to impossible. Do not be deceived by the false pleas of demagogues. What was true in 1868 is just as true now—"a vote for Hartranft in October is worth two for Grant in November."

HARTRANFT.—The following from Gen. Burnside, in his speech at Philadelphia is a handsome but deserved compliment to our candidate for Governor:

"General Hartranft joined me in the war and was an efficient, honest officer, and proved himself a perfect man. I have great confidence in him, and can trust him. I earnestly implore you to stand by your State ticket. No man paid greater attention to his wounded soldiers than he. He was careful in all his duties. His courage is not doubted. Stand firm and all will be well. [Cheers.]

WE have heard of a monkey getting upon the sounding-board of an old pulpit and faithfully imitating every gesture of the preacher who was holding forth below. This was infinitely amusing for the congregation and the monkey, but the preacher was rather taken aback when he looked up at his double. We think Mr. Greeley must feel like that divine when he reads Victoria Woodhull's acceptance of the Presidency in perspective.

WHY don't somebody kill off Simon Cameron? It is clear as daylight that Forney cannot live in the United States as long as Simon is alive and kicking, and Simon must therefore die soon or Forney will certainly burst, go crazy, hang himself, or go to Texas, which is the same thing, says the—Lewistown Gazette.

HARTLEY, the Democrat nominee for Auditor General, was so bitter a copperhead during the war, that he left the Methodist Church because the Minister prayed that success might crown the Union arms, and the Government be preserved from dissolution.

"HONEST Men to the Front!" shouts the New York Sun, and up step Tweed, Hoffman and the rest of Tammany, followed by Ben. Wood, Morrissey, etc. There's honesty for you, and the watchword is Greeley and Brown."

THE PLOT AGAINST HAWLAY.

CHAPTER I.

HOW THE PLOT ORIGINATED.

Near noon, the 5th of September, 1852, a man laboring under great excitement was walking hurriedly up Broadway, N. Y. His features were flushed and convulsed, his glances wild and restless, his whole mien indicative of keen anguish.

Turning to the right into Bleecker St., he soon reached a plain three story and basement brick house, to which he gave himself admittance.

"Are you there, Ruth?" he called from the hall.

A step was heard overhead, followed by the rustling of a dress, and a young lady descended the front stairs. Despite several points of marked contrast, there was a family likeness about the couple that proclaimed them to be brother and sister.

"Why, what's the matter, Luke?" cried the latter, starting at sight of the disturbed countenance that met her view. "Are you ill?"

"I've just received bad news," replied the brother, leading the way into the parlor—"news which has given me a terrible shock."

"Shocked? You! What has happened?"

"In a word, Clara Aymar is married!"

"Married!" echoed the sister, recoiling. "Clara Aymar married! Is it possible?"

"Yes, married! the girl I've been laying siege to for years past—the only girl I ever cared a pin for. Imagine the shock this event gives me. I'm nearly crazy."

"Then you really loved her?"

"Loved her! I must have worshipped her, or else this thing would not have so completely upset me."

"Oh, as to that, the loss of a thing always gives us an exaggerated notion of its value," said the sister philosophically as she sank languidly into an easy chair, and smoothed out a fold in her showy morning robe. "You are simply shocked, as you say. But by to-morrow you will laugh at the whole matter."

"Don't, Ruth!" implored the brother, sinking heavily into the nearest chair. "Clara Aymar is more to me than my life! My love for her is a delirium! It's no such passing fancy as you suppose, but an everlasting passion—a rage—a flood of molten lava! And I've counted all along upon marrying her. True, she has rejected me twice, but I thought she'd change her mind—"

"She was in no way committed to you?"

"No, of course not. She has never given me any encouragement. But I am none the less surprised. I supposed that everything was favorable enough to my wishes. I know that she was still young to marry—an orphan—without money and without friends—presumably without suitors; and I flattered myself that she couldn't always remain insensible to my attentions."

"You reasoned wisely enough, of course, Luke; but reason never decides these matters," declared the sister, with a sort of contemptuous compassion. "A whim—a chance meeting—a smile or a word—a moment's weakness—any trifle—these are the things by which marriages are brought about. But who is the bridegroom?"

"Ah! that's a point that will touch you a little, I think. Can't you guess who he is?"

"I haven't the least idea."

"Well, then, he's Will. Hawley."

The sister sprang abruptly to her feet, clasping both hands to her heart. The changing colors of her brother, his agitation, his anguish, all passed to her own features.

"Will. Hawley?" she gasped. "Oh, you don't mean it, Luke!"

"But I do though. It's God's truth. Clara Aymar and Will. Hawley are husband and wife."

A heavy fall succeeded. The sister had fainted. She lay upon the floor as one dead.

"Did she think that much of Hawley?" muttered the brother, astonished. "I didn't suppose—"

He hastened to bring a pitcher of water and bathe the white features, and then set himself to chafing the clenched hands.

Capt. Luke Pedder was twenty-seven years of age, with an originally light complexion, which had reddened with generous living and bronzed with exposure to wind and sun. His form was of the average size and height, and his features of the most ordinary type. He was singularly selfish and unscrupulous, but of gentlemanly manners, being well educated and used to good society. His ability as a navigator was fair for a man of his age and experience, but he owed his position as commander of a fine Australian clipper, more to respect for his late father and to sympathizing favor than to his own merits.

Miss Ruth Pedder was two years younger than her brother, and consequently twenty-five years of age, although she owned to only twenty. She was tall, thin, and a little inclined in her outlines, as in her temper, to angularity. She was not particularly bright, but she was bold and unscrupulous, and possessed a fierce energy which was capable of compensating in any emergency for lack of genius.

The father of the couple had been a prominent ship-owner and merchant. But in his latter days the senior Pedder had been unfortunate, and had finally been broken up completely—a result hastened, it was whispered, by the wild ways and financial irregularities of his son. The old man's failure had soon been followed by his death, and already—for such is fame!—he was generally forgotten.

"How odd it is!" ejaculated Capt. Pedder, as he rubbed his sister's cold hands. "She madly in love with Will. Hawley, and I crazy after Clara Aymar! And now Will. and Clara are married, and Ruth and I are left out in the cold."

Under the vigorous treatment he had adopted, Miss Pedder soon recovered her senses.

"Are you sure they're married?" she demanded.

"Perfectly. I learned the fact half an hour since from Hawley's commander—Captain Greggs you know. Capt. Greggs was at the wedding. It took place last Friday evening—the very evening after Hawley's return from his last voyage to Rio. It was a quiet affair. Only a few friends were invited. But let me ask you a question. Did Hawley ever propose to you?"

"No. But I expected that he would soon do so. He has been here often enough—"

"Yes, he came several times to ask me for a berth in my clipper. I promised to think of him at the first opening, and I really meant to help him, for I knew in a general way that you liked him."

"I thought he'd realize that you could be of service to him," explained Miss Pedder. "I thought he'd remember that mother left me this house and a few thousand dollars to do as I pleased with. I was conscious, too, attractions. And as I supposed him to be entirely heart-free, I took it for granted that I should get him. His attentions seemed marked enough—"

"He treated you politely, of course," interrupted Pedder, "and he couldn't have well done less, after asking me to befriend him. But he never made any formal declaration?"

"No, he didn't. As mate of a Rio ship, he was away seven-eighths of the time, and I didn't expect a regular courtship. But I took it for granted—"

Pedder made an impatient gesture.

"We've deceived ourselves," he muttered. "We've been carried away by our feelings. The girl's rejection of me was really intended to be final, and Hawley's visits here were merely visits of business and friendship. But why Clara should prefer Hawley to me I can't imagine," added Pedder, drawing himself up haughtily. "Hawley has neither name, nor money, nor position!"

"Nor can I see why Hawley should prefer Clara Aymar to me!" said Miss Pedder, as she glanced at her reflection in one of the long mirrors near her. "She's a hired attendant, or something of that kind—the creature."

"I'd no idea that you thougth so much of Hawley," observed the brother, as he strove to calm his painful emotions.

Miss Pedder moaned. Her eyes filled with tears.

"I thought all the world of him," she murmured.

A long silence fell between the couple.

"Well, well, they're husband and wife," at length muttered Pedder hoarsely. "And this, I suppose, is all there is to be said."

Miss Pedder compressed her lips until they bled, staring at her brother with a fixedness amounting to ferocity.

"No! no!" she breathed fiercely. "The matter shall not end here. That marriage, that abominable marriage—"

She clutched at her heart again, as if suffocating.

Pedder opened his eyes widely.

"Why, what can we do?" he queried. "You wouldn't have me murder Hawley, I suppose? That wouldn't make him your husband. And, on the other hand, it wouldn't do me any good if you were to kill Clara Aymar."

"But there is a way, Luke, of undoing that marriage."

Pedder started toward his sister, as if electrified.

"Do you mean it?" he demanded.

"I mean it, and I swear it! I'll never consent to that girl's having Hawley! I'll dig a gulf between them as broad as the ocean! I'll undo that marriage or die!"

"Softly! Where is Kate?"

He referred to their single servant.

"She's out for the day," answered Miss Pedder, arising and planting herself in a chair. "There was little to do, you know, as I did not expect you home until dinner."

"Then no one will hear us."

He drew a chair nearer to that of his sister and sat down beside her.

"What's your idea?" he asked, in a whisper.

"My idea is to separate them; to turn their love to hate; to dig a pit beneath their feet that will remain open forever!"

"But how?"

"Will. Hawley is poor, isn't he?"

"Certainly; there is no mistake about that. His mother was a helpless invalid for the last ten years of her life, and Will. insisted on her using for her comfort every penny he earned. It hasn't been six months since he was relieved of that burden. He's poor, therefore, as you say—poor as Job's turkey!"

"Then he'll have to leave his darling Clara," sneered Miss Pedder venomously. "He'll have to absent himself from his deary in order to earn their mutual bread and butter. In short, he'll have to go to sea again?"

"Well, yes; I suppose he will," assented Pedder. "He can get better wages at sea than elsewhere. He'll sail again soon, no doubt."

"I thought as much. And the sea is full of terrible dangers! When do you sail again for Australia?"

"In about two weeks—possibly in ten days, as the ship's filling up rapidly."

"Hawley is thoroughly competent to be your first mate?"

Pedder looked wonderingly at his sister a moment, and then answered:

"Of course. I know of no better man for the post."

"He must be your first mate, then. You have influence enough with your owners, I hope, to turn out the present incumbent?"

"Why, the post is already vacant. Mr. Jarding—you have seen him—Mr. Jarding has just been called home suddenly to Ohio, on account of his father's illness—"

"Good! That's fortunate. You must recommend Hawley for the vacant place to your owners, and get them to engage him. The thing can be done?"

"Without the least doubt. It was understood you know, as I just now remarked, that I was to help Hawley at the first opportunity. We'll accordingly suppose that he sails with me as first mate the next voyage. What then?"

"You must leave him—not dead, but a prisoner—on some desert island between here and Australia!"

Pedder looked his astonishment.

"If it can be done," he said, after a pause, "what next?"

"You must come back and report that he is dead, furnishing full details and good proofs. Those details and proofs will not be difficult to manufacture. Then you must be all kindness and sympathy to the young widow, as she will suppose herself to be, and in less than a year thereafter she will be your wife."

"Oh, if this thing were possible!" sighed Pedder, beginning to look relieved.

"Possible? It's as simple as kissing. And the moment you are married to Clara, I will take a trip to Australia for my health, and naturally enough, stumble upon the very island where you have left Hawley; effect his rescue; tell him his wife is dead; condole and sympathize with him like an angel; and conclude the whole comedy by becoming his wife and settling in Australia. You'll thus have your Clara, on this side of the ocean, and I shall be happy with Hawley on the other."

As to Pedder, he twisted nervously in his chair, scarcely venturing to breathe.

"There's just one difficulty," he muttered—"that of getting Hawley on the desert island without his suspecting anything."

"It can be done," and the lips of Miss Pedder came together like the jaws of a vice. "There's no difficulty about finding a suitable island?"

"Not the least. I saw the island in my mind's eye the moment you uttered the word, and a glorious one it is for our purpose."

"It will be easy for you to get Hawley upon it," suggested Miss Pedder thoughtfully. "If it's near your route, you can call there for water. If it's out of your way, you can be blown there by adverse winds, or be drifted there by unknown currents, or fetch up there by a mistake in your reckoning or a fault in your chronometer. And once there, you can have Hawley seized by some trusty agent while he is ashore upon business, or you can send him ashore under some pretence such as looking for a deserter from the ship or for a shipwrecked sailor, and then sail away without him—"

"Say no more," interrupted Pedder, with wild exultation. "I see how to manage the affair from its beginning to its end."

"And you now see that we can undo that hateful marriage?"

"Perfectly—perfectly. The affair will require a little time and patience, of course, and a little expenditure of money but we are sure to triumph. Capital! glorious! What a load you have taken from my soul, Ruth! What a genius you are!"

He leaped to his feet and began pacing to and fro rapidly, with the most extravagant signs and exclamations of joy.

"First to get Hawley on his island," resumed Miss Pedder musingly. "Next for you to marry the pretended widow. Then for me to rescue the prisoner and marry him. And finally for you and me to be happy, you in your way and I in mine—you with Clara in New York, and I with Will. in Australia. You comprehend the whole project clearly?"

"From the first step to the last. There's only just one possibility of failure—"

"And that one?"

"A refusal on Hawley's part to accept the post offered him—a refusal based upon his marriage."

Miss Pedder turned pale at the thought.

"But he won't refuse," she soon declared, recovering her equanimity. "He has long been wanting just such a place. Married or single, he can't neglect his bread and butter."

"Well said, Ruth. I think we can count upon him. The post he come here to ask me for is now vacant, and I will accordingly have it offered to him, just as if nothing had happened."

"Exactly. You needn't speak of his marriage, or seem to know anything about it. You can simply offer him the post in question, in accordance with the old understanding. And he will accept it. He can't possibly have any suspicion of anything wrong. Outwardly and apparently we are on good terms with one another, and will remain so. Let the wages offered him be liberal. Possibly he may object to leaving his young bride so soon, but the next voyage after this one—"

Pedder interrupted the remark by a gesture of impatience. He was all eagerness now—all determination.

"That next voyage after this one will not answer," he declared. "Hawley shall accompany me on my very next trip. To make all sure on this point, I will have him engaged this very day. In fact, I will see to this now."

He seized his hat and gloves, addressed a few words to his sister, and quietly took his departure down town. The last glances the couple exchanged at the door were full of jubilant wickedness.

The next three or four hours passed slowly to Miss Pedder. She was beginning to fear that the whole project had miscarried at its very commencement, and was fretting herself into a fever, when Pedder suddenly made his appearance. One glance at his vivid flushes, at his dancing eyes, at his airy manner, was sufficient.

"We triumph then?" she cried, throwing herself into his arms for the first time in years.

"Completely! I saw my owners on the subject, and they sent for Hawley. He at first offered some objections, as was natural, but the high wages, the great step upward, the kindly interest we all manifested, soon brought him to a grateful acceptance!"

"Splendid!" murmured Miss Pedder, with a rippling laugh. "I knew the thing was feasible. And so in two weeks more our fond bridegroom will be plowing the sea again—"

"In two weeks more, Ruth? We shall be off in six or eight days. The cargo is fairly tumbling aboard the Flying Childers, to say nothing of a fair list of passengers. The honeymoon of our loving doves will be abridged to six short days more, you may be certain."

CHAPTER II.

A GREAT STEP TAKEN.

In the midst of the Antarctic ocean, a little off the route from New York to Australia, there lies a large island named Kerguelen's Land, or—as Capt. Cook called it—the Island of Desolation.

It was discovered just a hundred years ago, (in 1772,) by the French naval officer whose name it bears. It was uninhabited then, and is to-day as deserted as ever.

The smallest school-boy among our readers can find it upon his map of the world, about midway between the south end of Africa and Australia, well up toward the South Pole.

It is a hundred miles in length by fifty in breadth, and is consequently three or four times as large as Rhode Island.

Its coasts are so wild and dangerous that its discoverer, during the two expeditions that he made to it, did not once bring his ships to anchor in any of its bays and harbors.

Its shape is very irregular, but something like that of an hour-glass, it being nearly cut in two by a couple of large bays; but these two divisions are unequal in size, the northern peninsula being much larger than the southern.

Its coast line is wildly broken and jagged, its innumerable gulfs being long and narrow, and its promontories are correspondingly sharp and slender, reaching out into the ocean like fingers.

The body of the island indeed resembles that of some huge monster of the antediluvian world, even as its capes and headlands resemble such a monster's unsightly limbs and claws.

A more terrific solitude than this isle of Desolation does not exist upon our wrecked planet.

Neither the snows of Himalaya nor the sands of Sahara can outvie its terrors.

No inhabitant is there, not even a savage—no house, no tree, no shrub, no fence nor road, no field nor garden, no horse, no dog—not even a snake or a wolf.

Lone, blasted and barren, it looks like the skeleton of a land that has perished.

It may indeed be that Desolation is the relic—the surviving fragment—of a continent that went down here countless ages ago, with hosts of inhabitants, in some vast convulsion of nature.

It has certainly undergone dreadful visitations; been rent by earthquakes, pulverized by frosts, lashed and wasted by fierce tempests.

Its mountains are only of moderate height, but are capped eternally with snow.

Its vegetation is limited to a few dwarfish plants, including some mosses, a species of lichen, a coarse grass, a plant resembling a small cabbage, and a sort of cress.

Its winds are raw piercing, its summers cold and frosty, its winters those of the Polar Circles.

The interior of the island is occupied by immense boggy swamps, where the ground sinks at every step.

The rains in Desolation are almost incessant, in their season, and the island is accordingly veined with numerous torrents of fresh water, some of which have worn out of the solid rock tremendous cavities and gullies. The only other season than that of the rains is one of almost constant snow.

The fogs of that ghastly region are well worthy of the rains, being of a cloud-like density, and hovering almost continually over the whole face of the island.

The sun of Desolation is usually hidden by a canopy of lead-colored clouds, and appears, on the rare occasions when it is visible, scarcely brighter than the moon in other latitudes. As to the moon itself, and the stars, the clouds and fogs rarely permit them to betray their existence.

No fish worthy of note, not even fishes of prey, abound in the adjacent waters, by reason, perhaps, of their containing poisonous minerals, or deadly exhalations from the volcanic fires beneath them.

Yet the dark grim sea inclosing Desolation has done something to repair the sterility of the island.

Penguins, ducks, gulls, cormorants and other marine birds are plentiful in some of its harbors.

Seals also abound.

Strange and terrible land!

Not a single human being, so far as is known, has ever lived there, save as is now to be recorded in these pages.

Near the middle of a dull, dismal afternoon, some eleven weeks later than the date of the preceding events, the good ship Flying Childers drew near to the island of Desolation, shaping her course toward its nothernmost bay, called by Captain Cook Christmas Harbor.

A fair breeze was blowing from the north, and the ship was carrying every stitch of her canvas, including studding-sails.

Her crew—both watches—were busy about the deck, and her passengers—a score in number—had gathered in groups mostly forward, and were gazing with great interest upon the wild, rugged shores before them, so far as the fog suspended upon those shores permitted them to become visible.

The ship had come here for water, nearly all her water casks having been stove or started during a squall ten days previously, and every soul aboard of her having been since that date upon short allowance.

Upon the quarter-deck stood Capt. Luke Pedder, looking unusually happy, with Will. Hawley beside him.

"I mean to get our water aboard before dark, Captain Pedder, and so avoid losing a night here," said the young executive, totally unconscious of the plot to leave him alone on the desolate island and of the extraordinary adventures which were before him. The strange events that happened there, and indeed the whole of this thrilling story, will be found only in the New York Ledger, which is now ready and for sale at all the book-stores and news-depots. Ask for the number dated July 13, and in it you will get the continuation of the story from the place where it leaves off here.

WHITENING SMOKED WALLS.—To clean and whiten smoked walls, first dust off all the black. loose dirt with a broom, and then wash them down with a strong soda lye, which is afterwards to be removed by means of water to which a little hydrochloric acid has been added. When the walls are dry, a thin coating of lime applied. After this has become perfectly dry, the walls are to be calcimined, or coated with a solution of glue and chalk.

THE Pittsburg Commercial says: The Post makes frequent allusion to its conscientiousness, just now. Will it do us the kindness to tell us what it conscientiously thinks of Buckalew's course in advocating the counting of every honest vote in Dechert's case, and then throwing out the vote of entire precincts in behalf of M'Clure? Does it conscientiously think this is much short of downright rascality?

IF Johnson's Anodyne Liniment is half as valuable as people say it is, no family should be without it. Certainly no person, be he lawyer, doctor, minister, or of any other profession, should start on a journey without it. No sailor, fisherman, or woodsman should be without it. In fact, it is needed wherever there is an ache, sprain, cut, bruise, cough or cold.

Farmers and "Horse Men" are continually inquiring what we know of the utility of Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, and in reply, we would say, through the columns of the REPUBLICAN that we have heard from hundreds who have used them with gratifying results; that is also our experience.

IT is position, and not possession that renders us happy.

REPUBLICAN STATE PLATFORM.

Below will be found the Resolutions adopted by the convention which placed in nomination Gen John F. Hartranft, Hon. Ulysses Mercur, Gen. Harrison Allen and the entire State Ticket. The Resolutions were written by that clear headed and efficient Republican—Russel Errett, Esq., and have the true ring. Republicans, workingmen and all honest Democrats, can safely stand upon this platform. Let them be carried out in good faith and there need be no fears entertained in regard to the salvation and perpetuity of the government either State or national:

1. That we reaffirm our devotion to the principles of the Republican party, and our belief that the continued existence of that party is necessary to the maintenance and success of those principles. The grand and fundamental idea of the equality of all men in political rights is not professed by any other party, and can be sustained faithfully only by those who are sincerely committed to it.

2. That the adoption of the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the Constitution of the United States has not been sufficiently acquiesced in by all to render certain and secure their permanent incorporation in that instrument, and hence the administration of the government can safely be entrusted only to that party which is heartily, and beyond question, committed to them, and the policy necessary to put them into successful operation.

2. That we are now, more than ever, called to sustain the policy of national protection to American industry. If the laborer is worthy of his hire, and a fair day's work entitles the worker to a fair day's pay, we must continue to throw the protecting arm of the government around those who toil for their daily bread. The protective policy alone makes labor contented and capital secure. It renders employment certain, and pay ample and satisfactory; whilst free trade means that our laborers and mechanics must either work for lower wages or that our factories should be closed through foreign competition, and the workingmen of the country deprived of employment.

4. That the public lands belong to the people, and should be reserved for the people. We, therefore, pronounce most decidedly against any further appropriation of the public lands in behalf of corporations or individuals. All lands not sold according to law should be open to preemption and actual settlement.

5. That we demand a continued adherence to the policy hitherto pursued, under Republican auspices, in our State and in the nation, of a steady and gradual reduction of the public debt. The interests of the people require that the most rigid economy should be practiced in the administration of both the Nation and the State governments, and that taxes should be reduced in both as rapidly as is consistent with the honorable maintenance of the public credit, and the certain extinguishment of all the public debt.

6. That we are earnestly in favor of the earliest possible removal of the duties on tea and coffee, and urge the prompt passage of the bill for that purpose now before Congress.

7. That we heartily approve of the act of Gen. Grant in giving a trial to the plan of civil service reform. We demand that the plan, or any other that may be substituted in its place as better, shall have a fair and unembarrassed trial, that every effort shall be made to secure competent men for public service, and that honesty and incorruptibility shall be deemed qualifications as essential as competency and intelligence.

8. That the Republican party has given full evidence during the past eleven years of its ability to administer the government honestly, faithfully and successfully. It has, within that time, maintained the honor of our National flag at home and abroad; preserved the Union from disruption and restored it in its integrity; secured to all classes and conditions of men the rights given to them by their Maker, and having proclaimed liberty throughout all the land, unto all the inhabitants thereof, has given to that proclamation the full effect to which it was entitled; and we therefore, in its name, claim from the people a continuance of their confidence, and fearlessly challenge their scrutiny into its acts.

9. That we point with pride to the record of Gen. Grant's administration of the National Government. Not only has the weight of internal taxation been almost wholly removed from the people's shoulders, but three hundred millions of the national debt have been paid off—a result never before attained by any other people under like circumstances, and for which we are indebted to the rigid honesty strict economy and sterling integrity which the President has brought to the administration of a national affairs.

10. That we present his name for renomination to the Presidency, confident that the people will again rally to the support of the man who so nobly fought their battles; who, under the guidance through its struggle to maintain its existence, and who has since so successfully administered the affairs of the government as to command general admiration, at home and abroad.

11. That we will stand by the government in the foreign policy so firmly marked out and adhered to by President Grant. The honor of the nation, we feel, is safe in his hands, and the flag under which he never suffered defeat, will not be dishonored while he is kept in the front.

12. That we congratulate the people of Pennsylvania on the final accomplishment of the call for a convention to revise and amend the Constitution of the State and we earnestly urge upon our friends to see that delegates are chosen in their respective districts committed to the policy of incorporating in that instrument a clear and decisive prohibition of special legislation.

13 That we hereby declare our opposition to every effort to withdraw from the sinking fund of the Commonwealth, either by substitution, exchange or otherwise, any of the bonds, securities or moneys now pledged to it, and through it to the payment of the public debt of the Commonwealth, and our inflexible determination to preserve the same, inviolably, for the fulfillment of the Commonwealth's obligations.

14. That the oil producing, mining, lumbering and manufacturing interest of the State require protection from the efforts of dangerous combinations, and that such laws should be enacted by the General Assembly of this Commonwealth as will protect said interest, both in their development and the transportation of their productions to market.

15. That the thanks of our party are due to Governor John W. Geary, under whose lead our principles have twice been successfully vindicated in Pennsylvania; the State debt has been reduced during his administration; our soldiers orphans have been carefully cherished and educated; and our laws have been efficiently and wisely enforced. Under the necessity of parting with him as Governor, in conformity with the Constitution of the State, Governor Geary carries with him in his retirement the heartfelt wishes of its people for his future prosperity and happiness.

16. That we present with peculiar pride and especial confidence of their success, the names of Gen. John F. Hartranft for Governor, Ulysses Mercur for Supreme Judge, Gen. Harrison Allen for Auditor General, and the gentlemen this day named for delegates at large to the Constitutional Convention. They are all men worthy of an active and ardent support at the hands of the Republican party, and we call upon our friends throughout the State to rally as one man to secure their triumphant election.

17. That the President of this Convention, in connection with the candidates this day nominated for State officers appoint the chairman and one Secretary of the State Central Committee, and that the State Committee be made up on the basis adopted last year, and the two years preceding.

COL. FORNEY opposes the election of Gen. Hartranft, and denies that he favours that of Mr. Buckalew. As there are but the two candidates in the field, is it not pertinent to ask the Col. whose election he does favour?

THE Lancaster Examiner of this week has an article entitled "Come Home, Dear 'Fader,' Come Home," and says:

"If ever there was a time when the above plantive strains should be heard through the office of the Philadelphia Press, it is now. Col. John W. Forney, editor of the Press, in company with Col. Thomas A. Scott, is on a trip to Western Texas, in the interest of the Southern Pacific Railroad, and during his absence, John W. Forney, Jr., has charge of the Press, and a sorry mess he is making of it."

EVANS stole $300,000 from the State, as its agent. His appointment, by his own confession, was on the recommendation of John W. Forney, who, according to the testimony of McClure, was to get $20,000 for "his papers, both daily." He confesses to having received $2,000. Yerkes is in the penitentiary for stealing $100,000 of the State funds Gen. Hartranft "moved on his works' he did on Evan's. All these worthies are deadly opposed to Hartranft, and loud in their praises of Buckalew. which is perfectly natural.—Commercial.

IT is as well settled as anything in the future can be, that the business classes—not the manufacturers and traders only, but the laboring and producing classes—are not going for Greeley but for Grant. The country was never so prosperous as at this moment—a condition inseperable from the administration of the government. No change can be an improvement, and no change will they have, least of all one that brings the unstable, experimenting Mr. Greeley to the head of the government. This accurately describes the politics that will predominate at the ensuing election. That it is a good and safe kind, cannot be disputed.

THE Chicago Tribune comes to the aid of Forney. He needs all that he can get. As a corruptionist no man was ever so completely exposed. He got Evans appointed State agent with the understanding that he should have $10,000 for the Philadelphia Press and $10,000 more for the Washington Chronicle, How much he was to have or actually received is not known. Forney confesses to having received an installment of the State's money. Hartranft exposed the transaction and came near sending Evans to the Penitentiary—he may do it yet. Forney is a worthy object of the Tribune's sympathy.

GEN. HARTRANFT.—The opponents of General Hartranft are trying to weaken him before the people by giving the public a wrong impression of his character. They are maligning him for that for which he should have credit. On the Evans exposure, he at once took measures to bring that individual to accountability, and to secure the State what was due it. Besides this, Gen. Hartranft has collected more money for the State and paid into the Treasury, from laggard debtors, more than any one of his predecessors. That Hartranft is an honest man, we do not think any fair individual will seriously question and he has had experience to fit him well to enforce the executive duties of the State, while his services in war entitle him to the gratitude of the people.—Spectator

REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT OF THE LEWISBURG, CENTRE & SPRUCE CREEK R. R. CO., TO THE STOCKHOLDERS.

Your Directors take pleasure in submitting to you the following Report:

That the act incorporating the Company was approved as early as the 12th of April, 1853, and the Governor, under the great seal of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, did, on the 5th day of August, 1856, issue letters patent, and the company being duly organized, caused surveys to be made, but the work of construction was not progressed in for reasons not necessary here to state, until the year 1867, when, by aid of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, lessee of the Philadelphia & Erie Railroad, the work of constructing a railroad from the junction with the Philadelphia & Erie Railroad to Lewisburg—the Lewisburg Bridge Company agreeing to construct a bridge across the West Branch of the Susquehanna river at Lewisburg calculated for railroad purposes. This work was completed so as to enable the locomotive and cars to commence running thereon about the 23d of July, 1869. That by great efforts, subscription to the capital stock of our company was subsequently obtained in the counties through which the railroad is to be constructed.

In the month of September, 1870, the graduation, masonry and bridging from Lewisburg to western boundary of Mifflinburg, a distance of nine and two tenths miles, was allotted to Harris & Black, contractors, who, after doing a small amount of work abandoned it, and their contract with the company was declared forfeited, and afterwards on the 15th day of October, 1870, the work given to Messrs. L. J. & H. H. Vandyke who, with great energy, completed their contract by the following summer. By another contract made with the Messrs. Vandyke, the said road from Lewisburg to Mifflinburg was ballasted, ties and rails laid, and the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., lessee of Phila. & Erie Railroad, upon whom, by an agreement, the operation of the road devolved, began running their cars thereon, on the first day of November, 1871.

The graduation, masonry and bridging from Lewisburg to Mifflinburg cost $39,922.38. The whole cost of the road from the junction with the Philadelphia & Erie Railroad to Mifflinburg, a distance of ten and seven tenths miles, including the above sum of $39,922.38, and costs of building depot, is estimated at $257,738.62. This sum, however, does not include costs of right of way not yet settled.

The earnings of the road thus far have been satisfactory, much more so than was anticipated. For the year ending Dec. 31, 1871, they amounted to 15,275.56. The expenses for same period of conducting passengers, transportation of freight, motive power, maintaining of cars, and maintaining of way amounted to $12,709.66, leaving a net balance of $2,566.10 in favor of the company, which has been paid over to the Treasurer.

In August, 1871, twenty-one sections in Centre county, extending from the forks of Penns creek to near Oak Hall, making a little over twenty-one miles, were put under contract, and the grading, masonry, and bridging so far advanced that it is expected to be completed in July, 1872. The work on those sections from estimates No. 1 to No. 7, both inclusive, amounts to $56,435.95, out of which $8,335.95 per centage was retained as security for completion of the work, and for the balance of said estimates, to wit: $48,100.00, checks were issued to the contractors.

Proposals have been received, and your Board of Directors are about to let from Mifflinburg, in Union county, to near the Forks, in Centre county, being sections No. 11 to 35, both inclusive, a distance of about 25 miles, and from the western terminus, connecting with the Pennsylvania Railroad at Tyrone, to a point near the Penna. Furnace making the distance now for letting about 45 miles. The balance of the work is expected to be let soon, and the whole line forced to a speedy completion.

The length of the main line, from the junction with the Phila. & Erie Railroad to its western terminus connecting with the Pennsylvania Railroad at Tyrone, is about eighty-six miles. The branch from main line to Bellefonte, in the neighborhood of eleven miles, and from the junction with the Philadelphia & Erie Railroad to Danville about fifteen miles.

Over $300,000 have been subscribed to the capital stock of the company, and is being collected.

A further supplement to the act incorporating the Lewisburg, Centre & Spruce Creek Railroad Company was passed by the Legislature at their last session and approved by the Governor on the 27th day of March, 1872, by which the Company was authorized to create, issue, and dispose of, from time to time, on such terms and conditions as the Board of Directors might deem proper, bonds for an amount not exceeding three and a half millions of dollars, for the purpose of completing and equipping said railroad, payable at such period or periods of time as they might appoint, with coupons attached, as otherwise bearing interest at a rate not exceeding seven per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, with or without provisions for the payment by the Company of all taxes on the principal or interest thereof, and to secure the bonds by one or more mortgages on the whole or any portion of said railroad estate, real and personal, rights and franchises acquired and that might be thereafter acquired, by the Company, with the proviso that the road be constructed of ordinary gauge, which act, with its provisions, was accepted by the Board of Directors, who agreed to build the road of the ordinary gauge. That at a meeting of the Board of Directocs, held on the 22d day of April, 1872, at the Pennsylvania Railroad Co.'s office, Phila., it was ordered and directed, that in pursuance of the provisions of said supplement, approved March 27, 1872, to the act incorporating the L. C. & S. C. Railroad Co., there be made and issued, under the corporate seal of the Company and duly attested by the President and Secretary, bonds to the amount of two millions of dollars of the denomination of one thousand dollars each, numbering from No. 1 to No. 2,000, both inclusive, and to be dated respectively on the first day of May, 1872, and to be made payable on the first day of May, 1902, and to bear interest at the rate of seven per centum per annum, free of State and United States taxes, (upon both principal and interest) payable on the first day of the months of November and May in each year, until the principal sum is paid, for which interest coupons are to be respectively attached. And it was also resolved that, to secure the payment of said bonds, to be made and issued, the said L. C. & S. C. Railroad Co., by their President and Secretary, under the corporate seal, shall make, execute and deliver to a mortgagee in trust a mortgage in that part of the said railroad now built and to be constructed from the junction with the Phila. & Erie Railroad, in the county of Northumberland, thence in and through the counties Union, Mifflin, Centre, Huntingdon and Blair, to connect with the Pennsylvania Railroad near Tyrone, in said county of Blair. That your Board of Directors have negotiated with Hon. J. Edgar Thompson, President of the Penn'a Railroad Company, for a purchase by him in behalf of his Company of a million and a half dollars of the bonds issued as aforesaid by the L. C. & S. C. Railroad Co., on terms deemed favorable, which will enable your Board to have the work prosecuted with alacrity. That George Taber, Esq., has been selected as the trustee to be named as the grantee in the mortgage.

This road, when completed, will develope a section of country not easily surpassed, giving an outlet for agricultural products, lumber and iron ore, the latter of which is found to be abundant and of an excellent quality, and also affords a good market for anthracite and bituminous coal.

From every indication, when completed this will be one of the best paying railroads in the interior of the State, proving a profitable investment to the stockholders, and in all probability the day is not far distant when it will be a grand link in the great railroad from the Pacific to the Atlantic oceans.

In conclusion, it may not be improper to urge the propriety of a speedy location and construction of the branch railroad to Danville, and there connect with coal roads so as to carry the anthracite coal directly from the mines over our road, thus affording not only an accommodation to the public but a profit to the stockholders.

By order of the Board.

G. F. MILLER, President.

A NEW CANDIDATE FOR PUBLIC FAVOR.

THE NEW VICTOR SEWING MACHINE!

THE NEW VICTOR SEWING MACHINE!

BY ONE WHO KONWS:

A good sewing Machine I long have sought,
And tried them all but found it not,
Until the New Victor it came out,
And now I have one without a doubt.

It runs so easy and sews so nice,
I would not be without it for any price.
Its self-setting needle is so neat,
And everything else is most complete.

It sews through thin, it sews through thick,
And when you sew it never sticks,
So when you sew, you have no trouble—
I'd have a VICTOR if it's price were double.

READ! READ! READ!

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO ALL WHO ARE IN WANT OF A SEWING MACHINE.

The New Sewing Machine VICTOR has not its equal in the world for family sewing. It is made of the finest material and of most perfect finish, and no pains or expense is spared to make the Victor Sewing Machine, in all its points, fitted to meet the wants of every family in the land.

TWELVE GOOD REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD BUY THE VICTOR:

1.—It is the only Lock-Stitch Machine that has its needle Self-Setting.
2.—All lost motion can be readily taken up in all its parts.
3.—The needle being Straight, and Self-Setting, much of the perplexity and trouble to new beginners is avoided, as the needle cannot be set wrong.
4.—It has a positive Thread Controller and Tension, which enables it to sew with equal precision, from the most delicate texture to the heaviest material.
5.—It uses with equal facility Silk, Linen, or Cotton Thread.
6.—It uses the same size thread on the under as on the upper side, and sews across the heaviest seam, or from one to many thicknesses of cloth, without change of needle, tension or thread.
7.—There are no springs or cog wheels to break and get out of order.
8.—It is the simplest and strongest family sewing machine of all the varieties now in use.
9.—Every motion is positive, and it runs light and easy.
10.—The shuttle is carried on an independent table, which prevents its wearing out, and at the same time does away with oiling, thus avoiding greasing the work.
11.—It is simple in its construction, and the most inexperienced person can operate and regulate it.
12.—Its price is as low as any other first-class machine, and should be tried by all who want a good, reliable machine. This new machine can bs seen at the large Ware Room, where all are invited to call and see it operate. Having confidence that the Victor will meet with public favor, we are willing, when parties desire to purchase, to send it to their homes on trial, with complete instructions how to use it. Every Machine is Warranted. Traveling Agents Wanted.

MRS. IRWIN'S BUILDING, ALLEGHENY ST., BELLEFONTE, PA.

EDWARD NOCK.

EDWARD NOCK.

THE FIRST BOILER OF IRON IN AMERICA.

[From the American Working People.]

The above named gentlemen, who first introduced the boiling of iron in America, was born in South Staffordshire, England, in 1802. He commenced working in a rolling mill at the age of seven years. At that time the old style of puddling on sand bottom was in use. This was not only a very slow but also a very hard way. After working a number of years he became a second hand to a furnace, when he commenced to study the puddling of iron. After long and very tedious years a new process of puddling was introduced, which was claimed to be first invented by a man in Wales at one of the tin works. In those days it proved a very difficult thing to make tin out of the sand bottom puddled iron. This new process was termed the iron bottom and was a great improvement over the old process. This was about 1819 or 1820. Even this new process was nothing more than the old dry way called puddling. About the year 1829 the boiling became a question of great importance among iron men, and was first originated by Joseph Hall, from Bloomfield, England. He kept this new process of boiling a secret and for his own exclusive use for several years, and by it reaped a large fortune. Some of the workmen employed by Hall left him and having found out the new process of boiling carried the same to different parts of Europe.

In 1831, Edward Nock first came to America with a company from New York city called Phelps & Peck; at that time very heavy importers of iron and tin. He was engaged in England to come to America with them and work in a new rolling mill, the machinery for which had been built in England for this company and was brought over in the same ship in which he came. He would not work for them when he arrived in this country, but went to Boonton Falls, Morris county, New Jersey, and worked there as a puddler in the old style for about two years. At that time, his wife being very much dissatisfied with this country, he found it necessary to go back with her to England, where he remained for three years. During these three years he watched the different processes of boiling very closely, and having found the very best method, he went to the North of England and introduced it at a great many places. Having fully tested the boiling process he was urged to go to America and introduce the same there. In the latter part of 1836 he came back to America. Early in the spring of 1837 he arrived in Pittsburg and got employment with Leonard & Sample, at Pipetown; they were working the old dry puddling process. Mr. Nock described the new process of boiling to Mr. Leonard, who did not believe in it.

At this time the new mill of Lawrence & Cuddy was being built, and through a friend, he had the proposed process introduced to the attention of Mr. Cuddy, who was also afraid to try it, Mr. Nock meeting with the same rebuff as in the former case.

At this time Pittsburgh was far behind in manufacturing iron and would not listen to any new system. Here the matter dropped for awhile, but in a short time Mr. Cuddy sent for Mr. Nock to talk over the new process of boiling. He told him if he was afraid to try it that he would himself pay the difference in the expense of building a boiling furnace in place of the old puddling furnace, if it proved a failure. He agreed to try it. Mr. Nock had the furnace built and tried it himself and it gave perfect satisfaction to Mr. Cuddy. This first trial caused a great excitement among iron men and hundreds of them came to see it work, and were astonished, but were sure it could not be a success for general use.

When its success was fully demonstrated some began to be envious and abused the inventor, and cursed him for introducing anything of the kind, thinking it would be harder work than usual. They have since found out their mistake.

In 1840 he left Lawrence & Cuddy's mill and was engaged by the Great Western Co., in Armstrong county, to superintend the erection of a new rolling mill. He started it and worked on the new plan of boiling, and they were perfectly satisfied with it. From there he went to Franklin, Pa., and in company with others started a small rolling mill, run it about three years, got into some financial troubles, and retired. He then went to Pittsbugh, where he worked at boiling for Lindsey, Graff & Co., and in 1849, the time of the large strike among rolling mill men, he was one of them and assisted to compromise between the laborers and employers by trying to introduce a sliding scale, which is in force even at the present time.

They could not at that time effect a compromise, the boilers asking a certain price and no less, and the employers refusing to give the price asked. The result was that the employers hired other hands who worked at the prices offered, by which old boilers suffered greatly. They finally got together and formed a joint stock rolling mill company, of which Mr. Nock was a member. It was located at Sharon, Pa,, where he remained for about three years. He then went to Cincinnati and worked at shingling for about two years at the Globe Iron Works. From there he was called to Louisville, Ky., to some works of which a Mr. Dangerfield was manager, who had been working the old puddling system and run the works down, as the iron made was returned as unfit for use.

The proprietors, Coleman Knapp & Co., having heard of Mr. Nock's new process, sent for him and requested him to try it. He did so and it resulted in the adoption of his process.

Mr. Nock is a poor man. He has spent the best part of his life to benefit the iron trade, both workingmen and employers all over the United States.

He is now in his 70th year, broken down by hard work, and is obliged to earn a living by watching in a rolling mill in Youngstown, Ohio.

The life of Edward Nock has been a busy one. He has done perhaps more to make the manufacture of iron what it is than any other. He deserves some recognition for his valuable services from the army of hard fisted workers, for whom he has prepared the way of hard but honest toil.

NOT A BAD RULE.—The subject of giving was up in a church in the vicinity of Boston lately, and elicited a new rule, which, we persume, has not yet been adopted to any great extent. A brother, well-known for his generous benefactions, was asked what part of his income he was in the habit of contributing to the Lord's treasury. "I do not know," said the brother; "I do very much as the woman did who was famous for the excellency of her rhubarb pies. She put in as much sugar as her conscience would allow, and then shut her eyes and put in a handful more. I give all my conscience approves, and then add a handful without counting it." A few more such men would accelerate the coming of the millennium.

THE Bar Room Remedy for weakness of the stomach is a dose of Rum Bitters. They are surcharged with Fusel Oil, a deadly element, which is rendered more active by the pungent astringents with which it is combined. If your stomach is weak, or your liver or bowels disordered, tone, strengthen and regulate them with VINEGAR BITTERS, a pure "Vegetable Stomach Corrective and Aperient;" free from alcohol, and capable of infusing new vitality into your exhausted and disordered system.

Hoofland's German Bitters.

A Bitters without Alcohol or Spirits of any kind.

Is different from all others. It is composed of the pure Juices, or VITAL PRINCIPLE OF ROOTS, HERBS, and BARKS, (or, as medicinally termed, Extracts,) the worthless or inert portions of the ingredients not being used. Therefore in one Bottle of this Bitters there is contained as much medicinal virtue as will be found in several gallons or ordinary mixtures. The Roots, &c., used in this Bitters are grown in Germany, their vital principles extracted in that country by a scientific Chemist, and forwarded to the manufactory in this city, when they compounded and bottled. Containing no spirituous ingredients, this Bitters is free from the objections urged against all others: no desire for stimulants can be induced from their use, they cannot make drunkards, and cannot under any circustances, have any but a beneficial effect.

Hoofland's German Tonic,

Was compounded for those not inclined to extreme bitters, and is intended for use in cases when some alcoholic stimulant is required in connection with the Tonic properties of the Bitters. Each bottle of the tonic contains one bottle of the Bitters, combined with pure SANTA CRUZ RUM, and flavored in such a manner that the extreme bitterness of the bitters is overcome forming a preparation highly agreeable and pleasant to the palate, and containing the medicinal virtues of the Bitters. The price of the Tonic is $1,50 per Bottle, which many persons think too high. They must take into consideration that the stimulant used is guaranteed to be of a pure quality. A poor article could be furnished at a cheaper price, but is it not better to pay a little more and have a good article! A medicinal preparation should contain none but the best ingredients; and they who expect to obtain a cheap compound, and be benefittad by it, will most certainly be cheated.

PHILADELPHIA, March 16, 1871.

I find "Hoofland's German Bitters" is a good tonic, useful in diseases of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in case of debility and want of nervous action in the system. Yours truly,

I consider "Hoofland's German Bitters" a valuable medicine in case of attacks of indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my own experience of it.
Yours, with respect, JAS. THOMPSON.

HON. GEORGE SHARSWOOD, Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, June 1, 1868.

I have found by experience that "Heofland's German Bitters" is a very good tonic, relieving dyspeptic symptoms almost directly.

HON. JAS. M. WOOD, Ex-Mayor of Williamsport, Pa.

I take great pleasure in recommending "Hoofland's German Tonic" to any one who may be afflicted with Dyspepsia. I had the Dyspepsia so badly it was impossible to keep any food on my stomach, and I became so week, as not to be able to walk half a mile. Two bottles of Tonic effected a perfect cure. JAMES M. DR. HOOFLAND'S
PODOPHYLLIN,
Or Substitue for Mercury Pills.
TWO PILLS A DOSE.
The Most Powerful, Yet Innocent Vegetable Cathartic Known.

It is not necessary to take a handful of these Pills to produce the desired effect; two of them act quickly and powerfully, cleansing the Liver, Stomach and Bowels all impurities. The principal ingredient is Podophyllin, or the Alcoholic Extract of Mandrake, which is by many times more powerful, acting and searching than the Mandrake itself. Its peculiar action is upon the Liver, cleaning it speedily from all obstructions, with all the power of Mercury, yet free from the injurious results attached to the use of that mineral.

For all diseases, in which the use of a cathartic is indicated, these pills will give entire satisfaction in every case. They NEVER FAIL.

In cases of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia and extreme costiveness, Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic should be used in connection with the Pills. The tonic effect of the Bitters or Tonic builds up the system. The Bitters or Tonic purifies the Blood, strengthens the Nerves, REGULATES the Liver, and gives strength, energy and vigor.

Keep your Bowels active with the Pills, and tone up the system with Bitters or Tonic, and no disease can retain its hold, or ever assail you.

Recollect that it is DR. HOOFLAND'S GERMAN REMEDIES that are so universally used and highly recommended; and do not allow the Druggist to induce you to take anything else that he may say is just as good, because he makes a larger profit on it. VINEGAR BITTERS

Vinegar Bitters are not a vile Fancy Drink, made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the native roots and herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the Great Blood Purifier and a Life-giving Principle, a Perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition, enriching it, refreshing and invigorating both mind and body. They are easy of administration, prompt in their action, certain in their results, safe and reliable in all forms of disease.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain longun well, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. In these complaints it has no equal, and one bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that a marked improvement is soon perceptible.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs and in Bilious Diseases.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-Head, Sore Eyes Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Grateful Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. Says a distinguished physiologist: There is scarcely an individual on the face of the earth whose body is exempt from the presence of worms. It is not upon the healthy elements of the body that worms exist, but upon the diseased humors and slimy deposits that breed these living monsters of disease. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics, will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Typesetters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS twice a week.

Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc., etc. In these as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

Dr. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters act on all these cases in a similar manner. By purifying the Blood they remove the cause, and by resolving away the effects of the inflammation (the tubercular deposits) the affected parts receive health, and a permanent cure is effected.

The properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic, Carminative, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-Irritant, Sudorific, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious.

The Aperient and mild Laxative properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are the best safe-guard in cases of eruptions and malignant fevers, their balsamic, healing, and soothing properties protect the humors of the fauces. Their Sedative properties allay pain in the nervous system, stomach, and bowels, either from inflammation, wind, colic, cramps, etc.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Directions.—Take of the Bitters on going to bed at night from a half to one and one-half wine-glassfull. Eat good nourishing food, such as beef-steak, mutton chop, venison, roast beef, and vegetables, and take out-door exercise. They are composed of purely vegetable ingredients, and contain no spirit.

THE Warburton white hat—the best and most beautiful in the market.

EVERYBODY, it appears, and all their friends are going to Tyrone on the 4th.

WHY is it that Bellefonte made no effort to celebrate the 4th? Is the patriotism of our people oozing out?

OUR Milesburg and Boggs township subscribers will find their bills in the hands of Z. Miles, Esq., Post Master, where we have left them for collection. Friends call and see him at once and save costs, and our increased rates.

INSTITUTE.—We direct the attention of parents, and those wishing to qualify themselves to teach school to the advertisement of John Dotterer, Principal of the Nittany Valley Institute. The Fall session of this school opens on the 29th of July. Mr. Dotterer is a fine scholar and well qualified for the position he fills.

FOUND.—At Lock Haven, last Saturday night, on taking a seat in car of Erie Mail East, P. & E. R. R. A large leather Pocket Book with valuable contents, which the owner can have by paying for this advertisement.

DANIEL MCBRIDE,
June 24, '72. Bellefonte, Pa. 27-2t.

LIST of Letters remaining in the Bellefonte Post Office, and unclaimed, July 1st, 1872:

Miss Mary Brown, Uriah Boss, Edward Battarf, Miss Foley, Miss Anna Galer, O P Hassinger, Mrs Laura Jones, Miss Ellen Kuhn, W M Lewis, Miss Sallie Mabone Mrs Barbara McGann, Wm Mulberger, Mrs E Phymestine, Martin Reese, Francis Zerby.

THE Catholic Sunday School, of this place, will hold a grand festival or pic-nic on the Fourth at the pic-nic grounds between Milesburg and Bellefonte. The procession will march through Bishop street to Alleghany st., along Alleghany to Linn st., and down Linn to the pic-nic grounds. In the evening at 7½ o'clock the procession will march homeward by the same route.

ENTERPRISE.—We are authorized to say that John Powers, at his extensive Boot and Shoe store, opposite the Bush House, has just received another large supply of Ladies, Misses, and Gentlemens gaiters, boots, shoes, &c. He is still selling 40 per cent. lower than any other establishment in the county, and says he is determined not to be undersold. He manufactures extensively, and Powers fine french calf boots can be seen upon the feet of nearly all our fashionable young men. They are beautiful, (we mean the boots of course.)

FIRE.—On last Friday night about 11 o'clock, the cry of fire again rung out through the streets of our town, until every body was on the qui vive, anxious inquirers, as to the locality of the fire. It was soon discovered to be the stable of Samuel Irwin, Esq., just back of the M. E. Church. The night was very still, not a single breeze, otherwise it would have been almost impossible to save the church. The stable was nearly consumed before any water could be obtained. It was evidently the work of an incendiary. Will the Town Council bring a detective? It is hardly safe the way matters stand now, for people to retire to rest for the night.

TOWNSHIP AUDITS.—We call the attention of our readers to the statement of the Auditors of Spring township, in another column of the Republican. In publishing this statement the officers of the township, gives an account of themselves, and lets the tax-payers know how their money is expended. It is the duty of the officers of every township, in the County, to Audit their accounts and publish them, for the benefit of the people of the township, four times in one of the county papers. If they fail to publish, or attend to this duty they are liable not only to pay a fine; but to be turned out of office. The tax payers of each twp., should require, nay, compel, their officers to attend to this important duty. If you fail to do it, and get cheated out of your taxes, the blame will rest upon your own shoulders. You can examine the law and satisfy yourselves.

PLANING MILL.—We learn from our active and intelligent Milesburg reporter that the new Planing Mill erected in Central City, by Wm. Campbell & Sons, is in operation and doing a flourishing business. The building is 90 feet long by 40 feet wide, with two wings; one of which is 30 feet by 28 feet, and the other. the Engine house, is 32 ft. by 25 ft. The Engine is 35 horse power. The machinery, all is of the best and latest improvements. The flooring and siding machines are Woodbury's improved patent, with chip breakers, to prevent tearing or splitting the edges, thereby giving them the advantage over any other machine in the State. These machines will turn out from six to eight thousand feet of first class flooring, or siding, per day. The other machines are all of the latest style, manufactured by the noted firm of H. B. Smith & Co., of Smithville, New Jersey. The scroll saws have no equal. They are the Dobson's late improved patent, manufactured by Bellden & Co., New York, and are acknowledged by competent judges, to be the best in the Country. Their work is of the best quality, and persons wanting to purchase flooring, siding, or anything usually manufactured at a first class Planing Mill, would do well to call and examine the work of Messrs Campbell & Sons, before purchasing elsewhere. They are obliging and courteous gentlemen, and worthy the patronage of all who intend to build, or who should in any other way need the very best of work. These men were burned out at Milesburg, but a few months ago. We are really glad they are on their feet again. Such enterprise is commendable, and deserves more than success.

NORMAL SCHOOL.—We learn that Prof Magee has made arrangements to commence the Centre county Normal Institute on the 24th day of July next, Centre Hall, to continue eight or ten weeks. From a circular placed in our hands we make the following extract; "The scarcity of well qualified teachers, in this county—the supply being every year, short of the demand—calls for some organized method by which their number may be increased, and the intelligence of the times demands a higher standard of teaching. Teaching is a science, and as such, requires special preparation, and whoever wishes to keep up to the Professional standard must not stand still.

"In a large number of our schools last winter, the improvements recommended were not carried into practice, owing to the fact that very many of the teachers were entirely unacquainted with the subjects named, requiring first sufficient instruction, themselves, to enable them to teach effectively; it is, therefore, earnestly hoped that all who possibly can, will avail themselves of this means for professional improvement. All teachers and those preparing to teach are cordially invited to attend."

"The Government of the school will be mild yet firm. Students unwilling to observe the rules of the Institute will not be retained. All are expected to be present at the opening of the session, to take up such branches as the teacher may direct."

We learn that two Literary Societies—the Excelsior and the Eureka—will meet once a week. These society exercises are a great help to both young men and women.

COPPER DISTILLED.—As we will have no paper until the 17th of July, we cannot permit the present opportunity to pass without informing our readers and all those who will use stimulants of some kind, that our old friend John Copenhaver, Olivia, Pa., has on hand a large quantity of pure rye whiskey, copper distilled, seven to ten years old, which he is anxious to dispose of at reasonable prices to the trade. As we have said in another place; if people will indulge in the "ardent" they should use nothing but what they know to be pure. The whiskey generally sold at the bars is little better than poison, and the man who drinks it, does slowly but surely shorten his days, or commits suicide. Mr. Copenhaver offers the pure article. He is a reliable, consciencious, clever man, and his word, as the saying is, is, as good as his bond—his bond is as good as greenbacks, and the greenbacks are good so long as Grant holds the helm.

PERSONAL.—W. W. Woods, a young and enterprising citizen of Potter twp., visited our Sanctum on Saturday last. Mr. Woods is now engaged in selling Cigars and Stationery in Centre and the adjoining counties. We wish him success.

W. W. Hays, a native of this place, and now in the Government employ, in the Pension Department at Washington, made us feel comfortable for a half hour or more in our Sanctum on Monday last. He is a whole souled, genial companion, and a store house of histerical, piscatorial, and ornithological knowledge. Come again.

GARMAN'S Hotel is always full. Danl. understands his business. His house is truely the farmers home. We understand he has invited all the Editors and printers in town to partake of a sumptuous dinner at his house on the 4th. Good for Daniel. He knows the value of printers ink.

For the REPUBLICAN.

POTTER'S MILLS, June 24th, 1872.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN:

SIR:—Nothing worthy of note has transpired since my last report. Politics have not become exciting enough to be interesting. The Democracy are at a stand still. They are both for and against Greely. If Greeley is their candidate we can rely on plenty of Grant Democrats on this side of the mountain. Our farmers are making prepartions for harvesting their grain. The grain crop will be about half a crop on this side of the valley which is somewhat better than we see in a great many places, but withal the poor prospects for good crops, our farmers are investing in Reapers and Mowers, and other farming utensils as if money was no object. Money is not as scarce as they would make us believe it was.

Among the Reapers and Mowers coming into this Valley we find that the Russell, manufactured in Ohio, takes the lead in every respect. We do not know much about reapers, but we hear people say, who are using them that the Russell is the most complete Harvester, that has ever been built. With regard to style, workmanship, simplicity and durability they cannot be excelled.

We anticipate a lively time at this place on the 4th of July, in consequence, of a Grand pic-nic to be held in McCoys Grove, a very beautiful spot on a warm day, as there is always a western breeze strikes this Grove when there is no air any place else. A platform will be erected nearly 100 feet in length to accomodate those who feel like tripping the light "Fantastic toe." No want of room need keep any party from participating in that pleasure.

The best music in Central Penna., has been engaged and the committee are exerting every effort to make it a success. Invitations have been extended pretty generally throughout Central Penna. The Eutaw House under the supervision of M. L. Leitzell, will be abundantly supplied with everything to add to the comfort of any, who may stop there. Hostlers will be on the ground to attend to horses and see that they are well cared for.

We often hear our friend and neighbor called Esq. We suppose the time has arrived when he should be promoted and not be placed on the retired list. Keep cool, Olive, future prospects encouraging; William, you may not walk many years as you did last evening if events which are likely to transpire in the future can be relied on as "sartin." You are all right Frank. I'll "bet," Brisbin has been away out at Snow Shoe, and brought home a black and white "dorg." He says he got it from an old woman, of course she was. I think the "dorg" is an old Foundland. You had better watch it, James, when you go in past the store. We are having a very refreshing rain this morning. The grain and grass are beginning to look up. Enough for this time. WILS.

SOMETHING FOR CENTRE CO., BOYS.—By the advice of our County Agricultural Society, several gentlemen connected with it have generously subscribed a sufficient sum of money to pay the expenses of a student at the State Agricultural College, for four years. Competition for the appointment is open to any boy in our county under sixteen years of age.

Candidates will be examined in the following branches: Orthography, Reading, Penmanship, Geography, (Political and Mathematical), English Grammar, Mental and Written Arithmetic, and Elementary Algebra to Quadratics.

The examination will take place at the College on Wednesday, of the Harvest Home week, being July 24th. If the applicants should be in all other respect equal the appointment will be given to the one who is least able to provide for his own education. The candidate who is successful will begin his course at the epening of the next College year, August 23rd.

As ladies are now admitted to the College. some members of the Society are willing to support one of our County girls, as others provide for one of the boys. We hope there will be earnest competition for both places. Persons desiring further information on the subject can obtain it by writing to the President of the College, Rev. James Calder, D. D., Agricultural College, P. O.

PURE RYE WHISKEY.—It were better that every man would abstain from the use of intoxicating drinks; but so long as men will stimulate unnaturally how much better for them if they would use a pure article instead of the poisonous compounds, so generally imposed by Liquor dealers upon their customers. Messrs John Beezer & Brother two young gentlemen well known in this community for honesty and integrity have established a Distillery on Spring Creek, in Benner township, where they propose to manufacture only the very best article of Rye Whiskey. As important toward the mitigation of that brutal intoxication produced by adulterated beverages, we recommend all vendors of spirits in our midst, as well as elsewhere, to patronize Messrs Beezer & Brother. They will thus furnish their customers with a pure stimulent, from which the deleterious effects now so prevalent will not result. We recommend liquor to no man; but if you will drink adhere strictly to the Beezer article.

[For the REPUBLICAN].

HALFMOON, June 24th, 1872.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN:—

SIR:—The Quaker school near here closed on last Friday, with a public examination. Of course we went, every person was there. It was hot, not the examination; but the weather. They all said it was hot and no doubt they knew. We knew it was, for we used up two handkerchiefs wiping the perspiration from our physiognomy.

We arrived at the school about one o'clock, and what did we see there? Why we saw,

Beautiful damsels more than a score,
Young men too, some dozen or more
All rigged in their Sunday fixins.

And oh, the ladies. Talk about beauty loveliness, simplicity, innocence, rosy cheeks, black eyes, curly hair, ribbons, laces and Dolly Vardens. It was enough to melt the heart of a grind-stone, to see them flutter around. How our heart did go flipperty flap, when ever we approached any of the dear creatures. We fell in love with just nine before we got through. Fall only five feet twelve inches, not damaged to any great extent.

The examination passed off very pleasantly and did credit both to the teacher and pupils. After recess a paper was read by two lady pupils of the school. We forget its name or politics, but feel inclined to think it was a "woman's rights," supported, as it was edited by women; excuse us we mean ladies. Victoria Woodhull, is its choice for President, if we are not very much mistaken and we don't think we are.

The above paper is published quarterly and will be sent to any address at the following rates: To good-looking young men one photograph of themselves. To those not as good looking, photograph and two cents, and to all others either a bushel of corn, or a peck of potatoes, payment to be made when H. G., takes up his residence in the white house. One word more and we are done. To any one having in contemplation the building of a new board walk, we would advise them before laying it to examine the beautiful and substantial one recently put down in Stormstown. It is a new kind. Patent held by Horace Greeley, Charles Sumner, sole agents for United States. Local agents wanted, terms "liberal." Address with stamp,

"DUTCHIE."

FINE FURNITURE.—Those of our readers desiring to purchase fine sets of office, parlor or chamber furniture can find the greatest variety from which to make their selections, at the old, reliable and well known furniture store of John Brechbill, Spring st., Bellefonte Pa. Mr. Brechbill manufactures largely, and also obtains immense supplies from Boston and other Eastern manufacturers. His prices will be found the most reasonable throughout, and he is now offering sets of fine furniture at from thirty to fifty per cent. lower than similar ones can be obtained at other establishments. All needing sets, or single articles of furniture, of any description, should call and see the assortment, and ascertain the prices at John Brechbill's Furniture Store.

BOSTON BOOT AND SHOE STORE.—Solomon said, "there is nothing new under the Sun," and of course we do not feel like joining issue with so great, wise and good a man; but is it not something new to have a Boston Boot and Shoe Store, with Boston prices in Bellefonte? We think it is. Messrs B. L. Batcheller & Co., the proprietors of this establishment, we have every assurance, are high minded, honorable men. We have made the acquaintance of B. L. Batcheller the senior and managing member of the firm, and find him to be, a first class man, anxious to accomodate his customers, and to supply the whole country with Boots and Shoes. He is connected with one of the largest Boot and Shoe manufactories in the East. See advertisement.

BUSINESS.—A Republican wedding, by a Republican Justice of the Peace at D. R. Burlew's Hotel, in Milesburg recently. We did not learn the date. The Bride and Groom were American citizens of African decent; but loyal and law abiding. They stopped at the above Hotel and dispatched a messenger to J. M. Geeen Esq. The squire put in an appearance and soon the twain were made one flesh, by virtue of the laws of the great common wealth of Penna. This was squire Green's first job; but he did it up in good style. Taking this as a criterian the squire may feel proud, as many of our copperheads would have looked with contempt upon the black Republican couple. By the way J. M. Green Esq is one of the most enterprising Foundry men in Central Penna.

WHO ARE THE WITNESSES?—Such an array of great names as attest the value of Hoofland's German Bitters and German Tonic has never been marshalled in support of any other medicines. Physicians, jurists, chemists, statesmen clergymen, merchants, public men of every class, and of the highest eminence, avouch the excellence of these matchless vegetable restoratives. It is proven that no case of indigestion, billiousness, constipation, nervous debility, or mental depression can resist them. Sold by all Druggists.

PROGRESSING the L. C. & S. C. R. R.

For the REPUBLICAN.

CONGRESSMAN.

The aspect of the political field at this time is one that may seek a paralell in the future, but none to match it in the past. All possible available means to overturn both the National and State Republican governments are brought in requisition to accomplish this end. Attempts to create dissentions and broils within the Republican ranks, are the order of exercises of the Democracy throughout the States; while apostates to the Republican cause—a cause rendered glorious during the past eleven years—seek to shatter the future stability of that political organization to which they owe what distinguishable notoriety they now welter in. What cannot be done openly to consummate this, their cherished design, is secretly attempted by every species of subtelty of an ever watchful and persevering enemy. These combined efforts have been at work, fruitlessly, however, from the first inauguration of Mr. Lincon, and as the degree of their success is not worth the mention, it is nevertheless a lesson to Republicans, if their organization as a powerful party is to sustain its cherished reputation for honesty and fair dealing, to guard henceforth against the mean, disreputable underhanded schemes of men whose adhesiveness to Republicanism will only stand washing so long as profitable positions may be filched to gratify their insatiate cravings after the fat of other men's labors. Corrupt party rings not recognized by the honest hard-working masses of a party, have frequently been the means of leading our party to shame and defeat when victory was waiting to crown the efforts of the honest, disinterested and true. We have had this sad experience within our recent Congressional District during the present decade; not solely the fruits of arrogant and presumptuous leaders, but the perfidy to principles and pledges on the part of men whom the victorious Republicans had a right to trust until they were betrayed. It is simply necessary, as a justification of these remarks, to point every Republican who loathes corruption, arrogance and treachery, to Sumner, Schurz and others in the Senate and House of the United States. I need not now particularize others who have heretofore contributed to our defeat, further than to say that it behooves the Republican party, from the lessons it was taught in the recent past, to be rigidly circumspect in its selections of men for those public positions, who may be known to be incapable of prostituting their power to the utmost danger and detriment of both the country's best interests and our party's best good. Corruption and rascality practiced in party organizations will find their fruition in Government, just so sure, as certain seeds will produce their kind, and when this species of reprehensible scheming is to become the order in party organizations, the stability and duration of the Republic become a subject of very serious doubt.

Centre county, in 1858, so far as the Republican party is concerned, presented to the voters of the XVIIIth Congressional District a very formidable candidate for Congress—a man whose energy and ability could not possibly have been surpassed by any other; yet, to conciliate all differences of opinion and unite upon another as a compromise, the gentleman in question yielded for the best interests of his party upon the sacred pledges of the accommodated few that his claims should be duly respected in the future. This period is at hand, and having taken an active part in the contest at that time, it is fresh in the writer's memory what the pledges given amounted to then and since.

It is immeaterial to me, as it may be to many other Republicans, as to who is nominated for Congress this year, provided he be a man from the masses of the laboring people; but there is generally, in the progress of time a record of pledges which must not and dare not be overlooked with impunity. It is my desire, in this connection, as in 1858, to present to the Republicans of this District as one of the best men available for Congress, Col. W. W. Brown, of Centre county. It is useless at this time to multiply superfluous encomiums on the gentleman named, as his record is too well known in Pennsylvania to require further eulogies to characterize the man. As an orator he is always ready, and seeks his equal in the District, while his store of information on all political subjects is probably more replete than that of any other gentleman that might be named. It is to be hoped that the Republican press throughout the District will give this subject their earnest attention and sympathy, and consult the necessity of placing in the field for Congress an Editor of superior abilities, who can personally wield the requisite influence and favor among the people, features materially, essential to Republican success in the ensuing contest.

J. G. KURTZ

THE nomination of Buckalew over Cass, was a triumph of the Reading Railroad over the Pennsylvania Central. As Governor, Buckalew could be of more service to the former road, than as its attorney, in all future contests with the people of the coal regions.

IOWA, NEBRASKA, KANSAS, CALIFORNIA.—Advertising alone does not produce success. The thing which is advertised must have intrinsic merit, or else large advertising will eventually do it more harm than good. If you have anything which you know to be good, advertise it thoroughly, and you will be sure to succeed; if it is poor, don't praise it, for people will soon discover you are lying.

Such is the policy of the BURLINGTON ROUTE, which runs to three great regions in the West: 1st, To Omaha, connecting with the great Pacific Roads. 2d, To Lincoln, the capital of Nebraska, and all that beautiful region south of the Platte, filled with R. R. lands and homesteads. 3d, To St. Joseph, Kansas City and all Kansas points.

The roads are splendidly built, have the best bridges, finest cars, the Miller platform and coupler, and the safety air brake (to prevent the loss of life that is every where else happening); Pullman's sleepers, Pullman dining cars, large and powerful engines (to make quick time and good connections), and are in a word the best equipped roads in the West. So that if you desire to go safely, surely, quickly and comfortably to any point in Southern Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, or on the Pacific Roads, be sure that you go "By Way of Burlington."

All who wish particular information, and a large map, showing correctly the Great West, and all its railroad connections, can obtain them, and any other knowledge, by addressing General Passenger Agent, B. & Mo. R. R. R., Burlington, Iowa. 14-3m.

THE Logan Cement Co. are now engaged in repairing their mill. Persons wishing cement in the mean time, can be supplied at the Mill of J. M. Wagner & Co. Bellefonte.

THE SALE OF PATENT MEDICINES
